What role could Japan and the US play if there were conflict across the Taiwan Strait? How have Japanese perspectives on this question evolved over time? Join us for a presentation by Dr. Adam Liff (Associate Professor of East Asian International Relations, Indiana University).

Moderator: Dr. Kristi Govella, Director, Center for Indo-Pacific Affairs, University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa

Cosponsored by the University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa Center for Indo-Pacific Affairs, UHM Center for Chinese Studies, UHM Center for Japanese Studies, UHM Department of Asian Studies, UHM Department of Political Science, and the East-West Center