STUDENT PROGRESS LIST, DEPARTMENT OF LINGUISTICS
This progress list should be used in addition to the department's MA Manual, where you will find additional information about each of the following.

IN ORDER TO GET AN MA YOU MUST:

PLAN A: Thesis

1.	Be registered as a full-time student for at least two semesters
2.	Demonstrate competence in one language other than your native one
3.	Take 18 credits (6 courses) for a grade (not CR/NC or Audit)
	At least 12 credits (4 courses) must be 600-level or above including one 700-level seminar (3 credits).
4.	Develop and defend a proposal for your thesis
1.	Once your proposal has been accepted, a copy must be given to the department office to keep on file. This copy will be available to all faculty and MA students in _	the Linguistics Department.
5.	The Department office needs to receive a copy of your human subjects approval/exemption in order to register for only one credit for LING 700 per semester.*
6.	Write your thesis (12 credits of LING 700)
	If you have not completed your thesis once you have taken the required 12 credits of LING 700 you can register for one credit of LING 700F per semester and this will allow you to maintain your full-time status (if you are a foreign or financial-aid student). In order to do this, you must download a petition form from the Graduate Division website. After your petition is approved, you can get a CRN number for the semester from the Graduate Records Office.
7.	Have thesis declared ready for defense by your committee (allow 2 weeks)
8.	Be a registered student (LING 700) at the time of your defense
9.	Schedule your defense – pick up form from department office
	(Form is due 1 week prior to defense).
10.	Submit a PDF version of your thesis at least 1 week prior to the defense; the title page should contain a clear indication that this is a 'pre-defense draft'.
11	Pass your oral thesis defense and make any necessary revisions
	Take your revised thesis to the Graduate Division (Records Office) for approval.
13.	Submit a PDF version of your final approved thesis to the department office.
