

Requirement	PHIL courses	SLO 1 Skills	SLO 2 Western Philosophy	SLO 3 1 Non-western Philosophical tradition	SLO 4 Acquainted with 1 major field	SLO 5 Independent Research Paper
1 course	110, 111	I
2 courses	211, 212, 213	I	I, A
	414 (alpha) [repeatable 1 time]	R	R, M, A		R, M	R
1 course	300-320	I, R, M	I, R, M		I, R, M	[I]
1 course	330-380	R		I, R, M
1 course	449 [capstone]	M, A			M, A	M, A
1-page narrative	Exit narrative	A				A
Requirements include the 18 credit core (above) and 12 additional credits of PHIL courses numbered 200-499.

Introduce, Reinforce/practice, Master at the senior level, Assess (for program-level assessment)

SLOs

1. Students acquire the skills
 1. of careful reading and interpretation of philosophical texts
 2. of writing clear, succinct, and well-argued papers
 3. of responding critically to the ideas advanced by others
 4. of expressing ideas logically and coherently.
2. Students acquire a basic knowledge of the history of Western Philosophy.
3. Students are acquainted with at least one non-Western philosophical tradition.
4. Students are acquainted with at least one major field in contemporary philosophy.
5. Students demonstrate the ability to write a paper on a philosophical topic on which they have conducted independent research.