East Carolina UNIVERSITY

Greenville, North Carolina

Vice Chancellor for Advancement

East Carolina University is pleased to announce its search for a new vice chancellor for advancement. As a key member of the chancellor's executive team, the vice chancellor will provide leadership by managing the advancement infrastructure and raising the resources necessary to ensure long-term success.

Having just completed a successful capital campaign, raising $219M, East Carolina University (ECU) has become a technological innovator, an engine of economic development, and a hotbed of discovery. With 140,000 living alumni, ECU has served the people of North Carolina and the nation for more than a century. ECU is a national leader in the health sciences, an engine for regional transformation, and prides itself on service and community engagement. The university was recently recognized nationally with the C. Peter McGrath award for community engagement and The Freedom Award for service to the military.

Enrolling nearly 28,000, the university includes the founding College of Education, which has been joined by: the Thomas Harriot College of Arts and Sciences, as well as the colleges of business, fine arts and communication, health and human performance, human ecology, and technology and computer science. The Division of Health Sciences includes the School of Allied Health Sciences, the Brody School of Medicine, the College of Nursing, and the new School of Dental Medicine.

Responsible for all institutional fundraising and the creation and maintenance of relationships with all critical external constituencies, the vice chancellor will work with the university, athletic, and medical foundations, as well as the alumni association, to develop and to implement an integrated strategic plan for maximizing institutional advancement.

The position requires the demonstrated ability to work effectively with university leadership, volunteer boards, alumni, and community constituents. The ideal candidate will be able to design, develop, and coordinate a comprehensive campaign while at the same time building a strong and efficient organizational team. Strong institutional leadership is required for the position. An advanced degree and university experience are preferred.

Confidential inquiries, nominations and applications may be sent to the university's consultants: Dennis Barden and Alice Miller, at ECUVCUA@wittkier.com. Candidates should submit a cover letter describing their interest in and qualifications for the position and a resume.
