National As'n to Investigate Japan Massacre

National Association, in Convention, Awards Over $500 to Japan During Massacre.

Copy of Letter In To Be Sent To Tokio Officials and Others. It Is Voted.

From The Star-Bulletin: Demand for an "open investigation" of the killing of Koreans during the recent earthquake in Japan. The letter was made today by delegates at the national convention of the Korean National Association.

The Koreans here say that their information is that the number of Korean victims slain during the earthquake in Tokyo and Yokohama is over 4,000, which is far higher than the official Japanese report gives.

To Be Widely Circulated.
The demand for an investigation of the killing of Koreans in Japan was made by the delegates at the convention, which was held at the Hotel Oriental yesterday afternoon.

The letter which is being sent out is as follows:

"The Japanese government has officially and the Japanese public has publicly and acknowledged their wrong in the Korean massacre during the Tohuku earthquake as manifested, for example, in "An Open Letter to Mr. Kiyone, friend of the Japanese government" and a Japanese newspaper, and also in The Honolulu Star-Bulletin of Nov. 3.

However, the Chinese Government not only is not satisfied with the mere acknowledgment of the error, but is also demanding that the Japanese government make full reparation to the Korean people for the destruction of property and lives.

The Chinese government is the only one which is willing to make the full reparation to the Japanese government for the destruction of property and lives caused by the earthquake.

Therefore, let it be resolved at the delegate assembly of the Korean National Association held this day, January 14, 1934, at the city of Honolulu, that the president of the association represent to the Japanese government and to Japanese and Chinese newspapers for publicizing these resolutions, so that the Chinese government may take notice of the above resolutions and prevent any such incident from happening again.

"LET US HAVE CONFIDENCE"

Those who attended last meeting of the Student Alliance may perhaps have something to think about. In the midst of joy and festivity, a member of this body presented a statement which astounded the audience to a lesser or higher degree. This statement表达了 an equally astounding statement which appeared to be the result from which the former gallant lipstick marks are the change in the latter's degree. The former was a leader of the student group, and the latter was a leader of the student body. The statement was delivered in simple and clear English. The audience was left in a state of confusion and shock. The leader of the student group, who did not understand the real situation as well as the publication of the statement, went to the student leader of the student body and asked him what it was that the Student Alliance was doing. The leader of the student body explained that the statement was written by the Student Alliance to show the natural leadership of the student body.

The KOREA CALLS FOR LEADERS

(By Thomas Hong)

The following is a brief, barely 2-page, but within it is much of the author's mightiest. As a writer he seeks to show gift talent merely exercised by those of his class.

Men from the beginning had leaders to protect and guide them in time of war and peace. Even in the estimation of the KOREA, therefore, calls for leaders. The leaders for the KOREA are the leaders enlightened with the western thought, saturated with patriotic thoughts and educated with that aim in view. It is called to fill the gap between the day in utter agony of suspension and the day in utter agony of suspension in the provinces.

We, therefore, call for leaders. We ask for students, the leaders of tomorrow. Today we are not his students nor are we his leaders, but we are his students. We ask for leaders to hold the reins of the government. Therefore, what are we to do with such task?

Some student leaders, the primary factor in the present condition of the nation. What does it mean? Leaders are not to be found among men who stand alone and think himself great, but leaders, my friends, are found among men who mingle, interchange ideas with the west populations. By that means we can explore the best reforms and reforms through association with the general populace will be leaders.

Education is Fundamental in leadership. Merely going through high school or college does not necessarily make men leaders but those who readily assimilate the ideals prescribed in those books are hooked to the words of leaders of tomorrow. Men, through and through serve and serve the cause of a nation. They are the only ones who believe that it is their duty to be a member of a nation. They comprehend the sacredness of their allegiance to the cause, and every word and action of this almighty service impresses us. Service demands sacrifice, money and even life and those who willingly give them are entitled to leadership.

All that I have mentioned are necessary elements in developing leaders but the last named comes above them all.

with no previous experience on stage should act as normally as did Minnie Yee in this occasion; a great surprise to the audience, and the director extended his honorable mention of the class for the performances.

Next came the movie, a total of four reels taken in Korea. It was accepted through the courtesy of the Hanok of Pusan, where the audience was held in the Alliance for the occasion. A beer interest was manifested by the audience as the pictures of their beloved land were reproduced before their eyes. Some felt mixed feelings as we see the rise of the Diamond Mountains and the familiar scenery around Seoul and Pong Yang. These pictures were interesting to say they really prove it insufficient to satisfy the audience.
