Success Marks Business Session of the Alliance

Large crowd of veteran members gather to discuss important matters pertaining to Alliance.

SOCIAL PROGRAM FOLLOWS

Committeeheads submit reports and recommend ways of effectuating Alliance's activities.

Attended by a large crowd of officer members, the committee held in the auditorium of the Nunn Y. M. C. A. last Saturday evening with great success on the occasion of a business meeting which followed the business session, served to add a social flavor to the occasion. The committee members fully enjoyed and handled the discussion with ease.

With the new president and secretary-president for the first time, the members, who were all present, discussed the present state of the Alliance. Following the roll call, the secretary read the minutes of the last meeting and presented the report, which was an accurate and well-detailed report.

Among the important business brought up for discussion, the following were some of the points of interest: the election of a new president; changes in the constitution; and the appointment of a committee to recommend an official emblem for the Alliance.

Other matters discussed were the annual publication, finances of the organization, and the future plans for the coming year. Upon each topic the respective chairman spoke at length, offering suggestions and co-operating in order to achieve the desired end. Treasurer Vesper also presented his report on the condition of the finances of the organization and the need for more active membership and contributions. The chairman then called for a motion to authorize the treasurer to spend the funds for the best interest of the organization; the motion was unanimously carried.

Some lengthy discussion was indulged in, and many modifications were made in the by-laws. The meeting adjourned at 10:30 p.m., the business being completed.

The next meeting of the Alliance will be held at 8:00 p.m. on the second Tuesday of each month at the Nunn Y. M. C. A.

Koreans return to acknowledge rule of Japan, much less its comfort.

The news from the peninsula, such as has managed to trickle through to Jap, shows that the Japanese authorities there is in a very serious state of mind and appear to be concerned with the possibility of trouble.

This statement is confirmed by the indications that the Japanese are preparing for military protection.

(From Star-Bulletin)

A steady progession of upward events shows that all is not well in Korea.

Korean ladies and gentlemen in uniform are being ordered to their posts at the front of the tank guns stationed thereon, on the ground that the temper of the people is getting very bad.

Whether this is mere propaganda, or the part of the war office, which is trying to bolster up its position in case of a possible outbreak, is another matter.

Korea Looms As Danger Spot for Japan

Koreans refuse to acknowledge rule of Japan, much less its comfort.

The situation in the Korean peninsula is of great concern to the United States, and the possibility of a war breaking out in the region is increasing.

The Korean people have expressed a strong desire to be free and independent, and their resistance to Japanese rule has only increased in recent months.

The United States and Japan have both expressed their desire to maintain peace in the region, but the tension continues.

The question of the future of Korea is a matter of great concern to the international community, and the resolution of this issue will have a significant impact on the balance of power in Asia.

EPWORTH LEAGUE HOLDS O'LEARY LECTURE THIS WEEKLY MEETING SUNDAY

For perhaps the first time in the history of the organization, a debate was held on the question of the future of the Korean peninsula. The debate was held by the Epworth League at the First Presbyterian Church last Sunday evening. Hundreds of local citizens and a large group of Korean citizens were present.

The question of the future of Korea is a matter of great concern to the international community, and the resolution of this issue will have a significant impact on the balance of power in Asia.

The debate was well received by the audience, who were deeply engaged by the various arguments presented.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

REGARDING DR. SMITH'S STATEMENT

In the rush of events incident to the recent student election, to which the voice of The Young Korea was found indispensahle, this editorial space has been unused for other less important, though timely and important, subjects. However, late as it is, the editor feels that he cannot proceed without making some sort of comment regarding Dr. Smith's statement relative to the comparative intelligence of the Korean people.

That the mental capacity of our people is superior to that of Chinese or Japanese is a subject of which we need have no room for doubt or verification. Far be it from us to boast of our own racial superiority or to take advantage of the present moment to invite the attention of those somewhat prejudiced and skeptical foreigners who are prone to despise and underrate the intellectual standard of the Korean Race.

Serious inferences can be deduced from Dr. Smith's statement. If they are true, the responsibility of increasing the mental capacity of our people is certainly of great importance. It is certainly of great importance to us at this time when so much depends on the country which gives them protection and blessing; they can, and will prove their capacity for self-government. Breathers of pessimism and skepticism, we have no right to be so impotent in this particular respect more than others.

Ten limber-bodied husbands, one, agreed to form themselves into a society for resisting the oppressive domination of their wives. At the first meeting they were sitting talking over their daily lives, suddenly the ten vigorous wives, who had learned a new trick, appeared on the scene. There was general stampede and nine of the husbands were seen flying away in all directions, leaving only one brave man to face the music. The ladies merely smiled contemptuously at the success of their raid and went away. The husbands there all agreed that the bold truth-teller who had not run away should be at once elected president; but on coming to offer him the post, they found that he had died of fright!

The other day, a Japanese called on the Young's Printing Shop and asked for a job. Upon refusal to comply with his request, the disappointed party said, "What for you an sec job for me when you have a sign in front of your window saying: 'Job Printing?'"

The old man who "the feathers don't make a fine bird," is no longer in this enlightened age. Nowadays men must dress well in order to mix in human society. For good clothes at easy prices:
