Southern Part Of Korea In Grip Of Famine

5,000 KOREANS ON VERGE OF STARVATION WITH COMING OF WINTER

RELIEF INADEQUATE NOW
LOCAL SALVATION ARMY TAKES STEPS TOWARD DEFEATING HUNGER

Rapid and extensive relief measures are being taken by the local Korean community to save the famine-stricken flow-country in parts of southern Korea which are suffering most the effects of the worst case of famine known in history owing to failure of rice crops and torrential rains preceding the winter. Approximately 5,000,000 persons are affected by the present condition, The Associated Press states.

The Korean National Association, which holds its annual Conference at this time, has formulated a program of relief for the Church and religious organizations in Korea. It is expected that the Conference will hear the necessary quota expected of the people in the famine. Both the National Korean Salvation Army and the Salvation Army will take prominent part in the campaign. The smaller Korean Churches will employ their ready instituted steps toward collecting supplies and provisions for shelter.

Authorities of the Korean League of Relief Societies are contemplating strong relief measures. True to its name, and an action is expected soon. The Student Alliance will also join in the campaign. North and South Chung-cho provinces being the districts worst affected, it is expected that 30,000,000 extreme

"Tree bark and roots are the principal diet of the peasants. The government relief measures are wholly inadequate, and thus it looks like that the suffering will increase with the advance of winter."

Over 400 young Chinese, mostly Hawaiian-born, assembled at the Nunnan Y. M. C. A., last Saturday evening at the invitation of the Chinese Civic Association to discuss the question of Hawaiian birth certificates, which, to some Federal authorities on the mainland, seem to possess no legal or practical values.

A resolution containing these provisions was unanimously adopted by the house.

WE MUST SAVE THEM!
According to the Associated Press dispatches, some three million people in southern part of Korea are now exposed to the danger of starvation owing to famine conditions which came with the withdrawal of U.S. forces. Those of us in Hawaii must do our part immediately to save these less fortunate. We, Korean Americans in Hawaii, appeal to all readers, Koreans and Americans alike, to give what they can toward the relief work. This should not be looked upon as a task of the Salvation Army. It is indeed hard for these living in this land of sunshine and luxuriant growth to conceive of imaginations so that the actuality of poverty may appear manifest, but it requires no gift of prophecy to know that these problems, if not settled, will eventually exist in that part of the world that will continue to exist under the rule of communism from America come to their aid soon.

The greater majority of the Korean people depend for their livelihood on agriculture, a failure of the rice crop such as this winter has brought about, throughout the Chung-La provinces, invited famine in magnitude and proportion. Food, clothing, and medical care is quite necessary for all. The government has done little or nothing to alleviate the present conditions. What is to become of these three millions? They may perish.

Year after year, the American people have responded generously to the call of help from China during the famine and flood, and two years ago the earthquake disaster in Japan evoked the nationwide sympathy and aid. We wonder if a similar expression of good will can be extended to the poverty-stricken people in Korea.

JACOB DUNN RETURNS TO COAST
After enjoying three months of healthy recreation and observations in this veritable Paradise, Mr. Jacob Dunn returned to Honolulu. Mr. Dunn was a speaker from Michigan University, returned to coast, after his visit to the sunny island of Hawaii Wednesdays.

Dunn expects to visit his relatives in Southern California for two weeks, after which he will continue his journey to Chicago and return to Honolulu for a short rest, where his adopted mother resided. Just when he will take up residence is not known.

Asked by The Young Korea as to his impressions of his visit to the islands, the orator said: "All I’ve got to say is that Hawaii suits me. With its climate, the scenery, the social life of the young people, the food, the charm of the people of the state in general. I hope to come back next July, if my present plans do not change." Mr. Dunn further stated that he has abandoned the idea of entering Oxford University this fall, in hopes of entering into business upon his return to Hawaii.

TAI WHA CHUNG RELATES HIS EXPERIENCES AND IMPRESSIONS OF VISIT TO AMERICA
"I was struck by the frankness, earnestness and sincerity which the American college students showed toward me. Their appreciation of the crust of the institutions of higher learning. Asked if she expects a large export sale of the play, she answered, "No, I wish I could, but I have seen too much, Johnson of California."

To my surprise I found in Los Angeles many of my old time pals, most of whom working hard to earn their way through school. I was given chez dije, dinner, auto riding to Venice, and a movie treat to The Cluny, a theater about one hour from the University of Princeton. Yes, I’ve had so many things that it is impossible to prevet.

Standing beneath the tall buildings of Broadway, Los Angeles, my mind went back to Honolulu, where once I thought that King Street was some business commercial street. I sighed and wondered whether like Ali, I was in dreamland. No, in sooth I was one of the little bits of this vast universe where one may find things which seem next to impossible. THE LIFE OF SERVICE
Somewhat apart from the real world, we find ourselves within academic walls in companionship with the sages and the renowned savants. Today we pay our tribute to the quiet shrine. Tomorrow we are to bring it out into the actual world. Our present duty demands from us all a spirit of self-discipline and effort in pursuit of truth. Our appointed task requires of us a high ideal of life—the ideal of service.

Scholarship, without the ideal of service, is barren of result, and devoid of scholarship. Education must not be regarded as merely the application of the solution of human problems that are changing, but constant. To this student generation, we must apply, if not in word, the guidance of its future destiny. Society claims from the scholars in embryo up philsophers and men of science, according to their attainment in various fields of learning.

The Greeks emphasized the importance of knowledge. "Know thyself, know the laws," they preached the doctrine of service: "Because, when the knowledge of men is taught, all their teachings are essential in the advancement of mankind. Science is the direct result of the three pillars of human civilization, and they are carried on by the minds of the workers in the university, the Church, and the Country. And, if we maintain that these philosophies is that of service. With mutual helpfulness and co-operation, no work is too small to be of service to mankind for progress from savagery to civilization, and we must cherish and defend.

We are now passing our student life through valleys of depression, as well as the mountains of obstacles. We must, as our colleagues, go hand in hand and make sacrifices in profession, and therewith our students, scholarship, and the service of mankind to our interest. We are called to assume the responsibility of service, a habit of life, looking at and valuating the individual values. The place of education in the advancement of the human life is not only a matter of integrity, but of service. It is a matter of sacrifice.

Having enriched in the high realm of this life our noble spirit is enriched with the beauty and strength of a thorough and sound scholarship, we shall not be afraid to set out to conquer the world.

The world judges one not by what he says or does, but by what others do for others. Let us build for Korea a temple of Service, Honor and Honor and will come to serve.

THE SALVATION ARMY TWO WEEK’S DRIVE FOR STRICKEN KOREA
January 28 — February 7, 1925

The world was greatly alarmed at the receipt of the news that millions of Koreans were on the verge of starvation, owing to famine conditions and live on tree bark and roots of plants.

Already, the Salvation Army has taken every means to help these sufferers at this critical time. With Headquarters at Seoul, leaders of the local Korean Colony, and many other prominent citizens of Honolulu are backing Captain Kilsoo Haan, in charge of the Korean Branch of the Salvation Army in Honolulu, in the appeal for clothing, bedding, blankets, shoes, rice, flour, etc. to be sent to the famine stricken districts in Korea, where it is estimated that some three million people are in dire distress. The recent big floods have destroyed all crops in a large area, and done irreparable damage in other ways, so that unless more is immediately sent thousands will perish for lack of clothing and the bare necessities of life.

Many people in Honolulu, and throughout the Islands have clothing that could be spared and the Salvation Army asks that packages be sent to the Headquarters Building at 68 Beresetania Street or phone 5166 and the Salvation Army Industrial wagon will call around. The contents of these packages will be opened and examined by a representative of the Korean Relief Committee, and the Salvation Army will attend to the shipments to Korea which will be sent to the leader of the Salvation Army at Seoul, the capital of Korea, and distributed under the direction of the workers there.

If you will go over old garments, bedding, etc. and send them immediately as above requested, your assistance may save many lives. Hawaii has always been generous to every good cause, and we trust that the people of Hawaii will lend a helping hand to the stricken Koreans.

The Salvation Army stands ready to serve at home and abroad, and the effectiveness of its service will be limited only by the generosity of the public. Any assistance given toward this cause will be much appreciated by the Salvation Army.

Doo Whan Chey, mining engineer, is planning to leave for Seoul shortly, having achieved the purpose of his mission to Hawai‘i. He is booked on the steamer President Taft February 16.

In a letter regret that we shall see him go. He has been such an inspiring idea to the young people here. The Young Korea wishes him a life voyage and plenty of success in his great undertaking.

Kiil Surk Kim, brother of Faith Kim, has secured three months leave from the Federal authorities for a trip to Korea and other parts of the Orient. He will arrive in time March. "Why go to Korea?" Kim was asked. "To speculate on my business possibility," was his peremptory reply.

Rev. Hudson M. Lee, pastor of the Hilo Christian Church, returned to the Big Island Thursday, after attending the annual church conference which was held here recently.

John S. Pak wishes to make public the fact that he is now affiliated with Attorney Donavan. Flint at 15 Campbell Block, and will be glad to handle any law case the Kimber may have.

Walter Chung has safely arrived at his home in Tennessee, and will soon be busy to study with the opening of the second semester, his letter states.

Peter Pak, graduate of St. Louis College, is planning to go to the mainland next year to further his education. "What can a high school graduate do in this enlightened age?" he said. "Better get more education if only for educational sake." He is correct.

Mrs. Raymond Har, formerly Miss Esther Kim, has been secured by the Methodist church school. She will begin her work from the first of next month.

After being fooled repeatedly our readers would refuse to believe, but, believe it or not, Park Kwan Doo is coming back from Korea next month.

Of the former Hawaiian students now studying in Los Angeles, the following are reported: Sur Kim Moon, Park Yeruglo, Edward Hae and Kwok Kiehm.

Yoon Yoo Sun, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Yoon, of Kakako, was seriously injured when he rode a motorcycle which he and his brother Yoon Soon, were riding, collided with a passing automobile between Palm and St. Francis Thursday afternoon.
