Clad in unison of joy and enthusiasm, Korean churches in the community celebrated the birthday of the Man of Christmas who brought a message of grace to troubled and sinful humanity, "peace on earth and goodwill to men." Hundreds of people thronged the three churches and paid homage to the greatest man ever lived with a jubilant spirit that transcends mankind from the valley of discouragement to the pinnacle of hope.

The Korean Methodist church on Park street was the scene of a real spiritual Christmas celebration which was held on the evening of Dec. 22. More than 500 people hailed the singsong of the program presented by young boys and girls to the stimulus and music of the service.

A play entitled, "Why the Christ Child came," was performed in impressive tableau representations in three scenes of the evening. It was a beautiful song and dance performance by Mrs. William H. Fry, the director of the service.

Christian Church

More than 500 people packed the Korean Christian church on South street on Wednesday evening. The occasion was marked by a colorful tableau staged by Mrs. C. S. Lee, the director of the service. The attractive tableau featured a beautiful representation of the birth of Jesus. The program was specially designed by Miss Minah Yeh, the pastor's wife, to bring out the historical and religious significance of the occasion.

Park Presbyterian Church

The Rev. K. W. Cho, pastor of the church, gave the address of the evening, bringing out the historical and religious significance of the occasion as well as emphasizing the need of applying the Christian spirit to our daily life. St. John's Church handed out handsome packages containing candies and nuts following the program.

KISS ME LIKE YOU MEAN IT

"Kiss me like you mean it," the Queen of Scotland whispered as her lips were caressed and kissed. It was said in a tender, maidenly voice. The Queen then tenderly placed her lips to the fair hair of the man she loved. "You smell good, my dear," she whispered.

"How can you be sure?" he whispered, "I have never smelt a rose before!"

"Yes, you have," she answered, "I have been to the rose garden, you know."

"I know, dear, I know," he replied, "I have been there too."

"But you don't want to belong to me," she said, "I want you to be my own."

"Yes, I want to be," he said, "but I must first be a rose."

EDITORIAL

AN EXPLANATION

In the absence of Young Kang, editor of the Young Korea, his friend and successor, Young Sun Yie, is now teaching in a Kauai junior high school. To him we owe the friendship that has been growing in the Young Korea when times seem difficult, when resources were failing here and there, and when the war was being waged. With the initiative of power and spirit of independence that has been shown in editing this paper, he ought to do much good in helping him succeed, happiness.

HONESTY

A man in business is nothing short of a fool if he is anything but honest. A business man who is not strictly honest has every little chance to make a big success. Modern business has made honesty more important.

The business man, himself, is the only one in this wide, wide world who knows what honesty is. Your wife may think you are honest, but she cannot tell whether or not you are honest.

The man who acts the part of a husband, a father, and a friend, is the only one who knows if the answer is just what he should follow the old adage, "Honesty is the best policy," and you can't go wrong.

WORLD BROTHERHOOD

The Nuanu Y. M. C. A. is a place where various activities are being developed by a group of young people of Oriental parentage. The idea is to show the people that if a friendly feeling is going to be established and there is a bright hope that world brotherhood and international friendship will be achieved.

If these young people are to be together, play together, talk together, eat together, and work together, there is a bright hope that world brotherhood and international friendship will be achieved.

If we are all in a world of neighborhood, let us help make it a world of brotherhood.

REPEAT YOUR FEAT

The entrance of the Korean Delta Frat boys in the Nuanu Y. M. C. A. baseball league has been so successful that they won the league's championship in 1925 and 1926. Recently the International baseball league, a team composed of Japanese boys, was defeated by the Korean boys, which indicates that the Korea boys have a powerful offensive line and their good pitching makes them good for the coming series. They may play hard against the Japanese boys in the third time in succession.

BEST WISHES TO YOU

Y. K. Kim, president of the Korean Student Association, will end his public career this month when C. D. Cho takes the chair. The new president is expected to do much good in his new work.

At the same time, the new president will make every wish of this journal.

The Young Korea is confident that Cho will be an able and energetic president, and we wish him and his family every happiness.

WORLD COURT

It is not to the credit of America to stand on the outside, as she is the first, in spite of smaller nations when forty-eight nations are trying to get in.

People ought to join the World Court and assume the leadership in the movement for everlasting peace.

Just now Korea is facing one of the most severe winters for years. This means it becomes the news that many are freezing to death, and die in the cold.

march of Progress StymiJates Anlector of Young Men; Expense £ Problem

To get on in life is the common goal of young persons in all ages and countries. To this flow young Koreans are adding their bit. The march of progress has been too rapid in Korea in recent years that it has stimulated and awakened the business acumen in the young men and women of Korea to a greater degree than it has ever done before in the annals of the nation. Here in Japan aspiring to achieve renown in realms of learning and arts is increasingly wonderful.

The young Koreans are quickly going to Japan over the sea of Kankai and Japan, and the world is watching as by the following table prepared by the educational authorities of the Government,

These figures may not be absolute figures, but are not far removed from the truth. The majority of these students, at least 60 or 70 percent of the number now in Japan, are among the ambition of the 2,000-3,000 students in the country. The purpose of the little paper soon be explained in the words of the editor who declared,

The Youth is a product absolutely antithetical to the standard of our source and various essentials. Its prime purpose is to create harmony and educational interests among the boys—a truly and remarkable task has been laid forth in this issue in the annual or international contest last

The sun is therefore twelve days behind the equinox, or in the middle of November, when the skies are clear and bright. The sun is shining brightly in the sky, and the air is fresh and cool. The weather is delightful, and the sun is about, or more than, a month ahead of the equinox.
