War, Languages, and Un/intended Consequences

~ from Diderot to after World War Two ~

3 PM, Wednesday, November 1, 2017

Hamilton Library Room 401

Light refreshments will be served.

There are always consequences when different cultures interact. Sometimes things go as planned but often not as expected. Using publications and records that we take for granted, namely, dictionaries and unpublished materials, the second colloquium of the Treasures at UH Hamilton Library attempts to shed light and new perspectives on cultural interactions, using Asia as a case study. This event will be coordinated by Tokiko Bazzell, our Japan Studies Librarian, in partnership with other Asia Collection Department librarians and archivists at UH Hamilton Library.

JOIN OUR COLLOQUIA FOR A WIDE-RANGING DISCUSSION ON HAMILTON LIBRARY'S UNIQUE COLLECTIONS!
