TUESDAY SEMINAR IS BACK!

With the start of the new fall semester, the Tuesday seminar series is back in action! Join us in-person in Moore Hall 155A or on Zoom on the following Tuesdays between 12 and 1:15PM. Hope to see you all there!

- September 12: Dr. Jens Hopperdietzel (University of Cologne) on Inchoativization across languages: Morphology vs. type-shift
- October 10: Lisa Peterson (Visiting PhD student from Griffith University)

Zoom link: https://hawaii.zoom.us/j/96319201459
Passcode: Tuesday

Keep an eye on your inbox for future seminar announcements!

LAND ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

LSM acknowledges that we live and work on the lands of the Hawaiian people. We affirm our kuleana to support and promote the vitality of the Hawaiian people and their culture, land, and language.

IMPORTANT DATES & UPCOMING EVENTS

Please see page 4 for more details

Fieldwork Debrief: Thursday, September 21st, 12-1 PM

Student Research Sampler: Tuesday, October 3rd, 12-1:15 PM

Special Lecture on 'Ōlelo Hawai‘i: TBA

Follow us on socials!

Instagram: @lingsocmanoa
Facebook: @LinguisticSocietyofManoa
Discord UH Ling Mailroom: https://discord.gg/dzZPdtwyac
Interested in learning about current and ongoing research? Check out the department reading and research groups!

Language Acquisition Research Group (LARG)
The LARG is a research group intended to foster and develop research in first or second language acquisition, as well as related issues such as first language attrition and aphasia.

All theoretical approaches are welcome, though there is an emphasis on research in the linguistic/psycholinguistic tradition. The LARG provides graduate students with an opportunity to receive feedback on research, either before or after data collection.

LARG meets weekly on Fridays 1-2pm in person in Moore 575 and on Zoom.

To join the listserv, email larg@hawaii.edu with your full name and departmental affiliation (e.g., Linguistics, SLS, or EALL).

Experimental Approaches to Theoretical Syntax (EATS) Lab
The EATS lab is a virtual research lab of the Department of Linguistics at University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa (UHM), established to provide a venue where students and faculty members who are interested in approaching syntactic issues experimentally can get together and discuss their (or someone else's) research.

EATS will be meeting biweekly on Wednesdays from 12-1:15pm in Moore 575 and on Zoom. Join them for their next meeting on September 18th!

Email Dr. Shin Fukuda (fukudash@hawaii.edu) to join the listserv and visit the lab’s website for more info!

Austronesian Circle
Austronesian Circle is a bi-weekly reading group for anyone with an interest in Austronesian languages. Austronesian linguistics is a very broad field, so this group provides an avenue to get acquainted with current work from a range of languages and subfields. In addition to inviting speakers to give more formal talks, Austronesian Circle is a perfect venue for students working on Austronesian languages to present their research (no matter what stage it’s at) and benefit from feedback and discussion.

The group meets every other Wednesday from 1:30-2:30pm in Moore 575 (and via Zoom). Join them for their next meeting on September 13th!

If you have any questions, feel free to email Greg (student coordinator) at gregoryv@hawaii.edu, or Brad (faculty supervisor) at mcdonn@hawaii.edu.

Critical Pedagogy/Applied Linguistics (CPL) Group
The CPL is a student-led group that aims to explore the concept of critical pedagogy (CP), and discuss its application in various language learning environments. By reading articles and sharing our thoughts, we deepen our understanding of CP. Our meetings are relaxed and informal - usually held biweekly.

Join CPL for their next meeting on Friday, September 15th, from 12:00 pm to 1:00 pm, at Paradise Palms (next to the Hamilton library)!

For questions or concerns, please contact Rickey (larkinrt@hawaii.edu) or Milang (milangs@hawaii.edu).
JOIN READING AND RESEARCH GROUPS

Interested in learning about current and ongoing research? Check out the department reading and research groups!

Studies in Phonology (SIP)
Studies in Phonology (SIP) is a new reading group for reading and discussing literature on topics that are of current and growing interest in phonology and its intersecting fields. The group is open to all students and faculty. Each semester will be organized around a theme. The Fall 2023 semester theme is Sound Symbolism.

SIP will be meeting biweekly on Thursdays 3:30-4:45pm. Join them for their next meeting on September 21st!

If interested and/or to join the mailing list, fill out this google form.

Quantitative Research Discussion Group
Quant is a space for students to present their research at any stage, whether you just want some feedback on design or a project idea or want to give a full practice presentation for a conference. Some sessions will also provide space to learn about new methods/analyses and/or to read and discuss articles. Quant welcomes all students, even if you’re not very comfortable with quantitative research yet!

Quant meets biweekly on Wednesdays 12-1pm. Join them for their next meeting on September 13th in Moore 575 or on Zoom!

For questions, email quant@hawaii.edu. To join the listserv, fill out this google form.
Zoom Link: https://hawaii.zoom.us/j/93442302329
Passcode: Quant

Initiative for Decolonization, Equity, and Anti-Racism in Linguistics (IDEAL)
IDEAL, the Initiative for Decolonization, Equity, and Antiracism in Linguistics, is a discussion and action group that focuses on decolonizing common rhetorics and epistemologies within linguistics, avoiding extractive practices in our research, and taking concrete action towards linguistic justice within our department and beyond. Meeting activities include discussing readings, exploring concepts like our own positionalities, workshopping research projects, doing community service, and working to improve linguistic justice.

We are a relatively new group, so your input can help shape us! Keep an eye on your inbox for more information coming soon about when and where we will meet.

If you have questions, contact ideal@hawaii.edu or reach out to Emma Breslow (ebreslow@hawaii.edu) or Olivia Waring (owaring@hawaii.edu)

Da Pidgin Coup
Da Pidgin Coup is an advocacy group for Pidgin made up of university and community members.

The group meets on occasional Mondays 12:30-1:20pm to discuss research and to collaborate on outreach events. The first meeting will take place Monday, September 25th in Moore 258.

Email Dr. Christina Higgins (cmhiggin@hawaii.edu) to join the listserv. For more info see http://hawaii.edu/satocenter and http://manoa.hawaii.edu/multilingualhawaii.

Stay up to date on meetings for all these groups and more with the Linguistics Events Google Calendar!

Linguistic Society of Manoa
Important Dates & Upcoming Events

FIELDWORK DEBRIEF
Recently returned from fieldwork and want to chat with others who've had similar experiences? Interested in doing fieldwork in the future and want to hear from others who have already gone? Join LSM on Thursday, September 21st from 12-1pm for a Fieldwork Debrief!

STUDENT RESEARCH SAMPLER
Have you been conducting cool research and want to share it? LSM is hosting our inaugural Research Sampler for linguistics students, to take place on October 3rd 12pm-1:15pm at Moore Hall, Room 155A.

Your project does not need to be “complete”! Come share what you have so far and receive feedback/encouragement!

SIGN UP HERE: https://forms.gle/FoWP2UZnWxRfQjJP9

SPECIAL LECTURE ON ‘ŌLELO HAWAI‘I
Our very own N. Ha‘alilio Solomon will be giving a talk on the Phonology and Pronunciation of ‘Ōlelo Hawai‘i.

This talk is perfect for anyone who is new to the island or who would like a refresher on how to pronounce the language of the people on whose lands we live and work. Additionally, increasing Hawaiian language use and awareness has been a key part of the revitalization movement here. We invite you to come learn about the language with us! Date and location to be announced!
THANKS TO EVERYONE WHO CAME OUT TO THE BEACH POTLUCK AND WELCOME PARTY! WE HAD A BLAST! AND WE HOPE YOU DID TOO!
Aloha kākou! I am Echo, the Undergraduate Representative for LSM. If you have questions or comments about LSM, or thoughts about what you would like to see from us in the future, please know that you are always welcome to contact me. If you just need someone to talk linguistics with, I am fascinated by all language-related topics but have particular interest in morphosyntax, language documentation, computational linguistics, and potential applications for technology in the fields of second-language acquisition and language conservation. I look forward to getting to know you!

Still haven't joined or renewed your LSM Membership? Become a member today! Membership benefits include voting privileges and event discounts. 100% of funds go to hosting events for the Linguistics Department. Mahalo for your support!

2023-2024 Membership Dues:
Undergraduates - $0
Graduate students - $15
Faculty - $35

Fill out this form to join LSM:
https://forms.gle/fUKNUkR3LzwdatYM6

LSM T-SHIRTS
• Missed your chance at the beach party to buy our iconic LSM T-shirt? We'll be selling them throughout the Fall semester!
• Member price: $16
• Non-member price: $21
• Contact LSM Fundraising chair Jillian Breithaupt at jbreitha@hawaii.edu to purchase.

Clé Mayer
Student Representative
Contact info:
cjmayer@hawaii.edu /
Discord
A Notice to All Graduate Assistant workers: It’s time to get organized!

Graduate Assistants play a crucial role in making the University of Hawaii function. We conduct research, teach undergraduate students, and provide administrative labor. Despite our contributions, we remain underpaid, overworked, and denied basic workplace benefits, even after a recent win for a pay increase and sick leave. This year we are closer than ever to unionizing since the Hawai‘i Supreme Court’s ruling that we should be recognized as workers -- which means that it is a crucial time to organize and claim our rights as Graduate Assistants!

For more information:
Contact Clé Mayer or Henry Osbourne (cjmayer@hawaii.edu / osborneh@hawaii.edu)
Or sign your membership card here: https://academiclaborunited.org/member

GSO FUNDING UPDATE

The Graduate Student Organization is a university-wide representative body that advocates for the interests of UH graduate students. In typical years, the GSO offers a generous Grants and Awards program. Graduate students seeking funding for research materials and conference travel are encouraged to apply on a monthly basis, and funds are distributed equitably among departments. The Grants and Awards program may be of particular interest to international students, who are ineligible for departmental Bilinski funding. More information about the Grants and Awards program can be found here.

Unfortunately, the GSO has suspended the Grants and Awards Program for the fall semester. However, we anticipate that the program will be reinstated in the spring, and we encourage you to consider applying in the future. If you are interested, please be sure to check in with Olivia Waring, the GSO representative (owaring@hawaii.edu), so she can advise you on your application.

GSO: GET INVOLVED IN STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The Graduate Student Organization (GSO) has a number of open positions this year and is seeking applicants for several officer positions. There are more than a few benefits to joining the Executive Committee, including a monthly stipend, the chance to make new friends outside your own department, and opportunities to advocate for your peers and improve the overall graduate student experience!

If you are interested in serving your community and earning a little extra money, or if you'd like to learn more about the available positions, please email Olivia Waring (owaring@hawaii.edu) or gsopres@hawaii.edu.
Several LSM officers are currently working on organizing a collection of teaching materials used/developed by current and continuing instructors of undergraduate linguistics classes at UH to be available to new and continuing instructors as a resource.

Please consider filling out this form so we can gauge student interest.

SHARE YOUR GOOD NEWS WITH US!

Did you do something fun or exciting last semester or over the summer related to linguistics? Maybe you were in the field this summer, presented at a conference, received an award/grant/scholarship, or took a new language class!

Tell us what you’ve been up to by filling out this form for a chance to be featured in future newsletters!

LIBRARY WORKSHOPS

LSM is gauging interest in the topics Linguistics students would like to see for future library workshops! Fill out the interest survey here and tell us what kinds of workshops and resources you’d like to see in the future!