SINGAPORE STORIES:

INTERNSHIP EXPERIENCE AT THE NATIONAL UNIVERSITY OF SINGAPORE CENTRAL LIBRARY

What: Student Presentation

Where: Hamilton Library, Room 301

When: Friday, September 10, 11:30 a.m. - 1:30 p.m.

Please join us for a brown bag presentation by our very own Erenst Anip.

In July 2010, Erenst went to Southeast Asia to be the LIS program's first intern at the National University of Singapore Central Library where he was introduced to the inner workings of a premier university library in Asia. There, he learned about a different library system and organization. In this informal talk story session, he will share his experience in 'finding a missing librarian'/being a junior operative, the library's outreach and social media initiatives, KPIs and PMS, and Singapore's favorite past time of 'makan'.

Short bio:

Erenst Anip is a 2nd year LIS student from Indonesia. As a future academic librarian, he focuses on digital technologies and social media features to enhance the library's appeal to the users while keeping abreast of (Southeast) Asia area studies. He is also the project manager of Hawaii's Digital Newspaper Project, part of Library of Congress' National Digital Newspaper Project (NDNP). Also, he is currently the treasurer of SLA-ASIST SC.
