

There are currently five CSOs at UHM. They are:

Student Fees at the University of Hawai'i at Mānoa

Mandatory fees are assessed for university related services available to all enrolled students to support co-curricular activities, as described in UH Board of Regents Policy 6.208. Mandatory charges are separate from tuition that all students are required to pay. Student organizations called Chartered Student Organizations (CSOs) are authorized to administer these fees.

Why are fees assessed?

Fees are assessed and re-invested in the UHM community in many ways. For example, your student fees are used to...

- Advocate for and on behalf of students.
- Satisfy student needs and interests via planned programs, services, and activities.
- Enrich the educational experience of all students.
- Enable student participation in campus governance.
- Enhance the reputation of the University.

Who gets to spend these Fees?

Students who serve on the five CSOs approve annual budgets that propose how mandatory student organization fees should be spent.

How are Fees Utilized?

For programs, services, and activities which benefit campus life including:
