GMC General Military Course (Freshman/Sophomore) – Cadets learn the basics of the military and prepare to demonstrate knowledge taught during LLAB at Field Training.

POC Professional Officer Course (Junior/Senior) – Cadets hold leadership positions running the cadet wing structure leading LLABs and PT teaching the GMC to prepare them for Field Training.

PT Physical Training – One-hour physical conditioning sessions held twice a week.

LLAB Leadership Laboratory – Two-hour class held once a week that teaches military drill, ceremonies, and military customs and courtesies as well as be given the opportunity to participate in leadership exercises.

AS Class Aerospace class – As a GMC you will have 1 AS class a week and 2 a week as a POC. These classes teach basics of being in the Air Force or Space Force to leadership, management topics and national security issues.

PSP POC Selection Process – Selection process based on factors such as your relative standing score in your class, GPA, and PFA to be selected to compete in Field Training to enter the Professional Officer Course.

Field Training – Two-week encampment at Maxwell AFB that includes physical conditioning, weapons and survival training.

Rated Board – The selection process for rated jobs (Pilot, CSO, RPA, ABM)

Non-Rated Board – The selection for all non-rated Air Force career fields.

Commissioning – The goal of the AFROTC program. This event where Cadets enter the Air Force as an officer and begin their career in the Air Force.
The order of merit is a ranking system used in the rated board process for determining applicants’ selection for rated career fields. The order of merit applies to all rated career fields which include: Pilot, CSO (Combat Systems Officer), RPA (Remotely Piloted Aircraft), ABM (Air Battle Manager). Below are the criteria used to determine each candidates order of merit.

PCSM – Pilot Candidate Selection Method (40%)
